Open Call for the Being a Scouter Training Review Project Team

We are pleased to invite applications to join the Being a Scouter Review Project Team. In line with Scouting Ireland's Strategy, the Volunteer and Group Support Department are keen to review the Being a Scouter module of the Woodbadge Training Scheme, taking on board the advances in hybrid/online learning and all aspects of the Being a Scouter module.

So, are you interested in being part of a Project Team who will complete the review? Are you a new Scouter that has recently completed the Being a Scouter, or have you been a Trainer on such a course, or are you a Group Leader that has sent Scouters on a course recently or are you just interested in looking at a different approach?

If you are any of the above and have ideas or suggestions that you think would improve the training we deliver, please come, and apply for this role and be part of the review.

The closing date for applications for the above roles will be Sunday, 17th July 2022. A short selection process will be conducted with applicants after the closing date.

We look forward to receiving your application.
